The Topeka Democrat complains that the Associated Press gives too much Republican news. Why, bless you, that's all the news there is this year. We notice, however, that Democratic editors weed it out pretty thoroughly, which accounts for the stale condition of their columns.

Look at Maine once more. The Republican candidate for Governor was elected by 18,495, but the Republican Congressional ticket received a plural ity of 19,252. The tariff was not made an issue in the contest for Governor and it was in the contest for Congress-

Protection and free trade had a fair stand-up fight in the district of Congressman Reed, of Maine, in the recenelection. Reed is the leader of the protectionists in the House, and the Democrats "pitched in" with vigor to de feat him, and this was the result While his plurality was 117 in 1880 317 in 1882, 916 in 1884, and 1326 it 1886, it was about 2700 this year.

A Damaging Statement.

The Globe Democrat publishes a letter from Senator Vest, of Missouri, to C. H. Napton, Secretary of a Democratic club in St. Louis, in which letter Mr. Vest uses this remarkably frank and truthful language:

"Mr. Cleveland, by his message, for which I sincerely honor him, has challenged the protected industries of the country to a fight of extermination. The fight is to the death."

Senator Vest has acknowledged the speech in the United States Senate, and attempts to apologize and explain. No apology, no explanation, can justify the use of such language deliberately penned by a United States Senator to a fellow Democrat. Mr. Vest spoke the words of truth and soberness in that letter. He said just what every free-trade Democrat from Maine to California deep down in his heart believes. He said in this private letter what the Democrats are too cowardly and hypocritical to say openly. So far as the free trader is concerned the fight is to the death "of all protested industries," Mr. Cleveland and every 1888. man who endorses Mr. Cleveland's has arrayed himself against the "protected industries to a fight of extermination. The fight is to the death." The challenge which Mr. Cleveland has made has been accepted by the American people. be found in November next?

A High-handed Move. A trio of self-appointed censors, Democratic in politics, strutted into the postoffice at Keystone last week and ordered A. S. Green, deputy postmaster, to "resign because he was obnoxious to the Demogracy of Manchester." Mr. Green refused to obey and they threatened all sorts of trouble for Postmaster Hanks and his assistant. The action was a high-handed outrage, as the deputy postmastership in a fourth class office is nothing more than a matter of convenience, and in this case is so arranged because Messrs Hanks and Green are associated in bus iness, and their business interests are subserved by such an arrangement. There was no pretense, on the part of the movers in the affair, that Mr Green was not capable. It is acknowledged that he has the respect and es teem of the community. The crime of which he is guilty in the minds of these members of the great reform(?) party is that he is a Republican,

The move of these would-be bosses without authority or semblance of reason, is being severely condemned; and we will say, in justice to the better class of the Democrats of Manchester, hat it is not countenanced by them

The Democratic literary bureau has now sent out a claim that Cleveland is going to carry Pennsylvania. This completes the list. The Democrats now claim, we understand, all the northern States except New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Connecticut. They have, nowever, become slightly discouraged about Vermont and may, later on, conede it to be doubtful.
